Lewis's Caution on Use of Soft Coal Ridiculed

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—John Hays Hammond, who headed the Coal Commission appointed by the late President Harding, today ridiculed statements made by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in the current issue of the American Federationist, on the use of soft coal as a substitute for anthracite.

"I felt it incumbent upon me to warn the public not to be disturbed by the statement of Mr. Lewis that it is dangerous to burn bituminous coal, and that it is actually impossible for the railroads to supply the amount required," said Mr. Hammond in a statement. "Both of these statements are absolutely contrary to the facts."

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 15.—An official bulletin was issued today signed by Howard Carter and Prof. Lacau, archeologists in charge, summarizing their examination of the mummy of King Tut-Ankh-Amen up to noon Friday. In my dispatch Friday night I stated that the crown had been discovered. Since then I understand that the linen wrappings have been removed, revealing the crown, the most wonderful find yet. It is probably the world's greatest artistic masterpiece of the jeweler's art surviving from antiquity, as well as being unequalled for its sentimental and historical associations.

DIVINE CITIES WICKEDNESS OF AMERICA

Methodist Missionary Says China Finest of Americans

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
DELAWARE (O.) Nov. 15.—The United States is the most wicked nation in the world, and has a third of the world's wealth, which the Methodist have a large share, but Methodist missionaries have only 15 cents a member for foreign missions last year, Dr. J. M. Yord, Shanghai, China, declared here today in an address before delegates to the annual meeting of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Dr. Yord, fifteen years a missionary in China and a former editor of the Chinese Christian Advocate, declared China is waking up to find how un-Christian America is.

"Chinese students in the United States," he declared, "are finding America is not what they are told. Our missionaries have taught the Chinese to expect equality of race, but we fail in this even within our own borders. It is becoming more and more embarrassing to our missionaries in China."

"China has learned many things from the United States," he said, "but she is learning the art of war and is following Japan in military efficiency."

Disappeared Like Froth Recalled High Commissioner Speaks in Riddles; Massacres of Christians Continue

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PARIS, Nov. 15.—Gen. Sarrail, recently recalled as High Commissioner to Syria, arrived in Paris today from Damascus. He informed the press of his latest information that France's problem in Syria is capable of solution and will be solved. He maintained silence on the events of the Druse rebellion and would only say:

"Upon the great chessboard, which is Syria, I was the only active agent. There were some problems of a diplomatic order of which my eye was ignorant; some negotiations which escaped me."

M. De Jouvencel, who succeeds Gen. Sarrail as High Commissioner, was one of the first to greet him at the station. He asked the general for the latest information. Gen. Sarrail seemed greatly surprised and replied: "This is hardly the time or place for such a question."

M. De Jouvencel pressed the necessity of his knowing the exact situation and Sarrail finally granted him an interview for the afternoon. A few hours after his arrival Gen. Sarrail was closeted with Premier Poincare, to whom he gave a full report.

PEGGY JOYCE SUES AGAIN

Divorce Action Filed in Paris Asks Separation From Her Fourth Husband, Count Gosta

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PARIS, Nov. 15.—Peggy Joyce, who sailed on the Mauritania unexpectedly yesterday, has filed suit for divorce here through her attorney, Leslie Nafziger, associated with Dudley Field Malone, against Count Gosta Morner of De Moreland, charging him with non-support and desertion. Count Morner and Peggy were married in Atlantic City in June, 1924. This was Peggy's fourth venture into matrimony, who fled with her fourth husband at the time of the tooth paste scandal, which is one of the principal reasons Peggy is returning hurriedly to New York, intending to urge him to assent to a divorce.

It is denied that Duke De Medici, one of the wealthiest of Spanish grandees, with whom Peggy was constantly seen dining and in the night clubs of Montmartre during her stay here, is engaged to her, and she never once has been seen in public with Henry Letellier, millionaire publisher and sportsman who lavished favors on her during her trip four years ago. Neither did she see Pierre Merillon, rich son of the deceased Paris banker and American mother, who courted her before the divorce.

There is considerable speculation over Peggy's jewelry, most of which she left in Cartier's safe when she departed hurriedly in the spring of 1921 after the suicide of a Chilean diplomat in the room next to her's at the Hotel Claridge.

New York Governor Called Foremost Champion of Rum Forces

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—A sweeping attack on Gov. Al Smith as a proposed Presidential candidate, and on Tammany Hall in general, was made here tonight by the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

In a statement based on the southern trip of Mayor-elect Walker of New York, the board declared it is "exceedingly doubtful if the Democrats could carry a single Southern State with Gov. Smith as candidate for President, and it is not certain that they could carry any State at all."

"Let the South be on its guard," it said. "Let all America be on its guard."

The statement declared the South would be "interested to know Mr. Walker's connection with New York's odorous prize-fighting game and with those elements in New York which are doing their best to murder American standards of morality."

Federal Trade Vote in Bakery Case Protested

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Vigorous dissent to action of the Federal Trade Commission in voting to amend the complaint issued last April against the Continental Baking Corporation was made public tonight by Commissioner Thompson.

The complaint charged some tending to a monopoly in the baking industry through acquisition of other baking companies, and Mr. Thompson's dissent was registered on the 8th inst., when the commission, by majority vote, decided to amend the complaint.

The chief effect of the commission's action was held by the dissenting to mean the taking of additional testimony and evidence before the examiner, a step which he declared can result only in unnecessary delay in the prosecution of the case.

PORTIA FLAYS GOVERNMENT

United States Assailed for Monroe Doctrine, Ignoring of Veterans and Crime by Ohio Judge

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
DETROIT, Nov. 15.—Declaring that there are no Ten Commandments for nations and that the theory that the State can do no wrong still prevails, Judge Florence E. Allen of the Ohio Supreme Court, assailed the United States and the Christian nations of Europe in an address here tonight. Judge Allen was the principal speaker at the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

"The United States must assume its leadership in world affairs based on a standard of Christian ethics, the foundation of which leadership shall be the doctrine that no power is above the law," Judge Allen declared. "When Christian governments violate every precept that Christ laid down, when the will of the stronger dominates in every corner of the globe, how can we expect admiration or respect? How can we hope for obedience to law? In this universal greed and cruelty lies the answer to the ever-recurring question of lawlessness and its causes."

Judge Allen assailed the Monroe Doctrine, declaring that they hate us in South America because we assume the role of dictator in affairs that in no way concern us. They hate us like the Moroccans hate the French, like the Hindus and Egyptians hate the British, like the people of the Congo hate the Germans and the Belgians."

The speaker castigated the Federal government for its failure to care for the returned soldiers and blamed the government for "the

According to his manager, C. A. Committee Hard at Work on New Year's Game Plans

Washington Eleven Cinch to Represent West on Grid

Huskies Supplant Bears "Wonder Team" of 1920

BY PAUL LOWERY

Chances of the eastern eleven which will meet Washington at Pasadena on New Year's Day lie between Dartmouth, Illinois and Yale.

With the Army as a possibility, the selection by the committee of three which is handling the matter for the Tournament of Roses does not have to be made until December 1, but from official sources it has been learned that the committee is hard at work trying to break down the faculty and conference barriers that are always interposed when an eastern eleven is invited to come west.

Dartmouth because of its unbeaten record is the preference, although Illinois and "Red" George would probably appeal to just as many people, while Yale's 1923 record and the tradition which makes it a big favorite. Army, boasting a tough team, might be a contender to strive with the others because it is not bound by conference rules.

There is no doubt about the western selection. The graduate managers of the nine conference colleges who are eligible to vote on the matter have until the Saturday after Thanksgiving Day to name their representative, but they could just as well do it today. Washington is the only unbeaten team on the Coast, and it stands out head and shoulders above any other eleven.

CONFERENCES IN WHAT If Washington is selected, as she undoubtedly will be, gridiron fans who flock to the Rose Bowl will see the greatest team that has been developed in the West since the California "Wonder Team" of 1923, which carried back Old State, 35 to 6, in old Tournament Park January 1, 1924.

Like the California "Wonder Team" the Washington eleven is a versatile outfit that can play any style of game. The Huskies possess the same with terrific power; they run the ends with speed and passing behind excellent line backs once they forward pass with amazing accuracy and so cleverly execute their team play that the enemy is bewildered.

In short, Washington is a team that makes few mistakes. A trophy fumbled just once Saturday, giving California its lone opportunity to score, but the Husky defense continually. That the Vikings were facing the sun.

DOWENY CLUB WINS

Clark's single in the tenth inning gave Downey a 4-to-3 victory.

The big feature was the showing of the Wasps. There was more cohesion and team play and a willingness to play hard than has ever been in evidence before. Both teams scored once in the first half and the greater part of the second period had been spent before the boys registered the winning tally.	Jamison, J. 1 0 0 0 0 0 Hughes, H. 1 0 0 0 0 0 Smith, A. 1 0 0 0 0 0 Clark, C. 1 0 0 0 0 0 R. for a forward pass there was a committee of one flet Washingtonian who went with him. As a result, the Bears tried only six forward passes,

It was a wonderful game to watch because the side in possession of the ball, through the fast-charging of its line and the power of its backs, was always able to make yardage, although, as we have said before, California made most of her gains in home territory. For example, of the eleven first downs made by California only three were made in Washington territory, one in the third period and two in the fourth. That passing spurt in the second period was as dazzling as has ever been displayed by any team. From

CAILLAUX HITS PAINLEVE LEVY

Supertax End in Fourteen
Years Flouted

Franc Drop Laid to Failure of Debt Funding

Points to Reduction in Short-Term Bonds

PARIS, Nov. 15.—On the eve of the Chamber of Deputies' debate on the Painlevé government's financial restoration proposals and while the press is still bitterly commenting on the United States generosity to Italy in granting it a much larger reduction in its war debt than offered to France, former Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux spoke today at Aubigny, Department of Sarthe, which he represents as Senator. He defended his policies while Finance Minister of the previous Painlevé Cabinet, both the 'domestic' social schemes and his attitude at Washington.

Explaining the depreciation of the franc, which had fallen to 4 cents from 5 cents in value at the time the debt mission went to Washington, M. Caillaux said:

ASKS PATIENCE
"One of the principal reasons in the uncertainty weighing on France's credit through the negotiation of war debts, which is instantly serious, but which I do not have time to discuss today, I will say, however, that we must show patience."

"It was not easy, it was not possible to influence at the first attempt a nation like the United States, with whom we never have had an understanding of such a delicate question, especially a nation in which, through lack of contact, there was formed an opinion so removed from our viewpoint. It was impossible to bring the Americans to our viewpoint during the first pourparlers."

"I believe, feeling I had assumed my duty toward my country, it was better to resign ourselves to travel through difficult times than accede to immoderate demands."

"The state debt and the condition of the treasury are grave, but not alarming," he continued.
"Thanks to my methods, there are only 1,200,000,000 francs ($190,- 000,000) in short-term bonds to get in December. Instead of 21,- 000,000,000 ($3,200,000,000) which we feared at the beginning of the year."

Tapping Premier Painlevé's
capital levy scheme, M. Caillaux warned that the application of super-taxation would last longer than fourteen years, as announced, saying:

"Enough illusions have been disseminated in this country."

M. Caillaux criticized the other measures in the Painlevé reform, but indicated he will not lead the attack in the Senate against the government's proposals.

PAINLEVE FINANCE
PROGRAM UNCHANGED
(BY GAZETTE DES FINANCES)

PARIS, Nov. 15.—The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies has finally concluded consideration of Premier Painlevé's financial program, and the measures will go before the Deputies Tuesday. It stands virtually as it was in the Premier's final draft.

One of the most notable amendments is the adoption of a paragraph embracing the principle of a national lottery to swell the proposed amortization fund. Another grants exemption from taxation to national defense bonds.

M. Painlevé himself expressed a desire that his elaborated plan receive the quickest possible consideration, and it appears likely that it will get through the Chamber before the end of the week.

BARBER BALKS AT HAIR BOBS

Kentuckian Fights National Administration Against Practice

(BY A. F. MURPHY)

LANCASTER (Ky.) Nov. 15.—Because of conscientious scruples, he says, James Lee, one of the leading barbers here, has announced that he is opposed to hair-bobbing among women and declares he will accept no patronage of this sort from the "weaker" sex, so stating in his advertisement.

Lee, who is a deeply religious man, asserts he has never bobbed the fringes of any woman and never intends to do so. In justification of his attitude, he cites the eleventh chapter of First Corinthians, in which reference is made to the impropriety of women wearing short hair.

Accepting without reservation this logic of the apostle, Lee says he looks upon the practice of bobbing women's hair as wrong.

(BY A. F. MURPHY)

The crash happened at 1:35 a. m. and wrecked the two locomotives pulling the freight train, the engine of the passenger train, the mail car and about fifteen freight cars and killed William Williams, engineer, on the passenger train.

One other man, engineer on one of the freight locomotives, Montevidios, Minn., was killed.

STATE'S SCHOOL ADVANCE SHOWN

Number of Buildings Grow; Attendance Larger

Elementary Course Studies Slashed to Twelve

Standards for Teachers Are Set Higher

(BY A. P. HUNT WIRE)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Review and reorganization of the state's schools, showing a tremendous expansion of school building accommodations, great growth in school attendance and more definite attention to the welfare of handicapped children, characterized the advancement of the West in education during the last year.

Reviewing the situation here today as a member of the administrative board of the National Education Association, Joseph H. Murray, superintendent of San Francisco public schools, pointed out that California, Oregon, Washington and Nevada willingly expanded their school facilities during the last year to meet the demands of progressive education. The statement was issued coincidental with the opening of American Education Week, inaugurated a few years ago by the American Legion and since sponsored by the National Education Association.

COURSES REDUCED

A new law in California, Mr. Murray pointed out, has reduced the number of studies in elementary schools from twenty-seven to twelve. Junior high school courses are being changed so that boys and girls during the three changing years from the ages of 12 to 15 may get an introduction to a wide field of knowledge so as to come to the senior high school with educational interests and abilities more clearly defined.

The tremendous expansion of school building accommodations is under way after many billions in bonds have been voted and new schools are being constructed as rapidly as men and materials make possible. San Francisco alone today has twenty-nine new buildings under construction.

The popularity of education continues to grow, Mr. Murray pointed out. Especially is this true of high schools and colleges. One state has 719,000 more children in school this year than a year ago. In many communities the growth in high school enrollment has been 10 per cent in one year.

BETTER TEACHERS

Higher standards for teachers characterized the year, notwithstanding the greater demand for pedagogues. The course for the training of elementary school teachers has been advanced one-half year and is now three years in length in California and supervisors and school administrators are required to hold special certificates in addition to the certificates to teach.

WOUNDS TAKE TWINS' LEGS

Brothers Suffer Injuries on Same Day of Name Month, Year Apart

(BY A. P. HUNT WIRE)

WINNIPEG (Can.), Nov. 15.—Wounds received by Ernest and Harry Gridley, twin brothers, on the western front of the World War left each minus his left leg. The brothers were wounded at the same time on the morning of October 20, but one year apart.

Records show that each was operating on sixteen times for war injuries.

The brothers were reunited at a convention of the Canadian Amputees' Association here. Ernest lives in Winnipeg and Harry in Toronto.

standing the greater demand for pedagogues. The course for the training of elementary school teachers has been advanced one-half year and is now three years in length in California and supervisors and school administrators are required to hold special certificates in addition to the certificates to teach.

Junior high school organization grew rapidly during the year. The West is definitely committed to this organization and the dominant building activity has been the construction of junior high schools.

Overcrowding of universities and colleges and the exclusion of many high school graduates from these schools have made more acute the demand for the establishment of junior colleges in connection with public school systems.

More definite attention to the education for handicapped children, including those who are physically, mentally and morally handicapped, was an outstanding feature of the western expansion.

NEW LINE TO BE CONSTRUCTED BETWEEN POST AND GRAHAM, TEX.

(SPECIALS DISPATCH)

GRAHAM (Tex.), Nov. 15.—Engineers of the Atchafalaya, Topoka and Santa Fe have finished the survey of the proposed new line of that system from Post to Graham, 150 miles. The survey will not be made further east than Graham. It is stated, and this leads to the conclusion that the Santa Fe plans to use the track of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf between Graham and Post, about eighty miles. At Post, the road will connect with the coast-to-coast trunk line of the Santa Fe. The route between Post and Graham is almost due east and west. No application has as yet been made to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to construct this railroad, but it is stated that this will be done as soon as final action is taken by that body on the pending applications of the Santa Fe and the Fort Worth and Denver City for the construction of branch lines in the Northwest Texas.

There is some talk that the Santa Fe may purchase the branch line of the Rock Island which runs from Fort Worth to Graham. This road in its present position is an unprofitable part of the Rock Island system, it is stated. There is no longer any doubt about the

NEW STATION For Longwood District

ON Sunday, November 15th, the new $150,000 Longwood Distributing Station, located at Longwood Avenue and San Vicente Boulevard, went into operation.

This station will supply electrical energy to all that territory south of Third Street and west of Norton Avenue, perhaps better known as the Los Angeles High School District.

It is equipped with the most modern and up-to-date electrical apparatus available, some of which has been developed within the past year only, by the Bureau's engineers in conjunction with local manufacturers of electrical equipment.

The equipment installed has been designed and is of sufficient capacity to take care of a 200% growth anticipated in this district within the next five years. The ultimate capacity of this station is 13,000 H.P.

The building is built with a steel frame covered with Hi-rib, a stucco finish, and in keeping with a municipal policy, will harmonize architecturally with other buildings in the locality.

BUREAU IMPROVEMENT PLANS Proceeding Rapidly

DURING the month of October the Bureau of Power and Light completed service improvements valued at $644,853.01. These improvements are a part of the program for expansion of distribution facilities within the City.

The past month's work has been primarily devoted to changing over obsolete 15,000-volt lines to 33,000-volt lines, making more power available for all uses.

READ "BUREAU BRIEFS" Every Week

THE purpose of "Bureau Briefs" is to give Los Angeles citizen owners of the Bureau of Power and Light a clearer understanding of what their Bureau is doing. It will be the aim of these columns to briefly and accurately tell you, week by week, vital facts—that you may know your Bureau better.

The Business Agent will be pleased to help you in any of your electrical problems—large or small. Write Business Agent, 207 South Broadway.

Emancipated Modern Woman Invades Every Field of Endeavor

A Representative from Illinois, Mrs. John J. Rogers (above), who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, called at the White House the other day to confer with the President on the coal situation. (P. & A. photo.)

The First of Her Sex to Be so Honored, Miss Suzanne Blum (above) has recently been appointed as one of the twelve secretaries of the Paris Court of Appeals. She was formerly personal secretary to Sen. Paul Boncour. (Kadel & Herbert photo.)

Even the Stoical American Indian recognizes the emancipation of the gentler sex, the wealthy Fontenelle tribe having recently elevated a squaw, Chief Littlebear (above), to the rank of Chief. She is the first Indian woman to be so honored, records reveal. (P. & A. photo.)

The First Feminine Supreme Court Justice of Ohio is Judge Florence E. Allen (above), whose career on the bench has placed her among the most jurists of the nation. She is the first to occupy such position anywhere in the world. (P. & A. photo.)

MEXICAN RELICS

LOST IN FLAMES

Lantern Carried by Patriot Destroyed
Valuable Painting Burned at State Fair
Woman's Booth One of First to Be Consumed

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., Nov. 15.—Padre Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla's lantern which he carried the night he gave the famous "grito" for Mexican liberty, his rosary and other sacred historic relics were destroyed in the fire which burned a part of the Chihuahua State fair here. These relics were on display in the women's booth, which was one of the first to be destroyed. A valuable painting owned by Mrs. Juan Crespo of "The Last Supper," which had been hung in place a few hours before, was also destroyed when the booth burned. Chihuahua City is the shrine of much Mexican history. It played a prominent part in the revolution against the palace in 1910, a smaller part against the French in the days of Maximilian and was the background of the Mexican Revolution. The palace, the Museo, Orozco, Villa and Obregon revolutions. The town shows the scars of battle in burned buildings, wrecked mansions and shell and bullet marks are to be seen on almost every public building including the State palace.

Having a high regard for places of historic importance the revolutionists carefully refrained from damaging the shrine of Mexican liberty which is the spot where Hidalgo was executed. This is marked by a marble tablet in the patio of the palace on the exact spot where the priest-liberator met his death before a firing squad of Spanish infantry. The palace had not been built later over the sacred place, then a corral. Across the street in the Federal Building is the stone tower and dungeon where Hidalgo was kept a prisoner before his execution. This is reached from the second-floor balcony of the Federal Building.

Stone steps lead down to a small room of solid masonry from which spiral stairways lead to the roof above and to the lower dungeon below. This was said to have been a convent at the time and the tower was retained because of its historic significance and the Federal Building built around it.

Across the plaza from this building is the Theater of Heroes where Gen. Felipe Angeles, one of Mexico's most brilliant soldiers, was tried by a court-martial and sentenced to death under the Carranza regime. Angeles took twelve hours to present his own defense after which sentence was passed and he was executed in the cavalry barracks adjoining the State penitentiary.

CELL URGED

FOR INSULT TO PREMIER

Thirty Months in Prison Provided as Penalty in Proposed Italian Measure

BY CARLO SCALFAROTTI DISPATCH
ROME, Nov. 15.—A penalty of thirty months' imprisonment "for insulting the Premier" is among a project of ten articles increasing the powers and prerogatives of the president of the Council adopted by the Cabinet yesterday preliminary to presentation to the Chamber of Deputies, which opens on the 16th inst.

Besides hamstringing their opponents from verbal attacks, the project provides that no order of the day may be presented to the Chamber without "permission from the Premier." The penalty of a life sentence is provided for "anyone impeding the life, integrity or liberty" of the Prime Minister. Loss of citizenship of those committing Italy abroad, or conspiring against the government is possible by royal decree upon the recommendations of the Minister of the Interior; and Minister of Foreign Affairs and the approval of a special commission.

The first article, however, affirms the prerogative of the King to "name or revoke ministers."

MONOXIDE

ENDS LIFE OF WOMAN

Mrs. Pauline Brown Found Dead in Bed, With Stove Burning, by Room-mate

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Pauline Brown, 34 years of age, of 1378 Pine avenue, died today, a monoxide victim. It is believed, and the first since last winter when there were many cases of illness and death from this subtle killer. She had been working as a waitress and was the wife of a former Police Officer George Brown.

Her room-mate, Mrs. Dorothy Day, told police she left Mrs. Brown alive about 6:30 a.m. and found her dead in bed when she returned at 4:30 p.m. with a gas stove going full blast. Dr. Elton Williams expressed the opinion the stove had exhausted the air of the room and produced poisonous vapor. Mrs. Brown's body was sent to the Park undertaking rooms where an autopsy has been ordered by the coroner.

BY PAUL SNEYDY

The lead of KHJ is again being followed by the leading broadcast stations in other parts of the country in providing high-class musical entertainment for the hosts of radio patrons on Sunday afternoons.

The time when people are in their best mood to appreciate the best from the world of music, New York, Chicago and other major cities are arranging their programs to give similar concerts to the splendid series inaugurated several months ago by the Western Auto Supply Company.

This prominent sponsor of concerts from the tower studio of The Times was again on the air from 4 until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a fine array of artists, featuring Vera Barstow, noted violinist, with Marchia Obuchon, who also played a beautiful solo number, acting as accompanist. Mary Newkirk Bower, prominent soprano soloist of the city, gave several of her artistic selections, with the Harmony Trio, composed of Thelma Strange, violinist; Frances Dodge, pianist; and Margery McDard, cellist, giving the instrumental ensemble portion of the splendid musicals.

FAVORITE ARTISTS

The Martin Music Company, known throughout radioland of the Southwest for its long series of excellent entertainments from the station, presented another group of favorite artists from 8 until 10 o'clock in the evening, giving two hours filled with a wide variety of musical compositions, with the program being opened by the Harmony Trio, who created such a delightful sensation in the afternoon, following with vocal selections by Ruth Pitts, possessor of a brilliant coloratura soprano voice, and Kaunoko Lewis, well-known Hawaiian ballad, and Victor record artist, Gladys Burch Dale, always a pleased factor in a studio concert, gave a group of violin solos, with Marchia Obuchon acting as her accompanist, and compositions on the Gulbransen registering piano, by John Martin.

Other cities are also following the pioneering example of KHJ for one silent night in each week in all large communities where several modern broadcasting units fill the air with entertainment.

Pittsburgh listeners began to organize several months ago, and were soon followed by Chicago, but now the fans of New York have prevailed upon several of the more prominent stations there to take the initiative in calling for a conference within the near future to determine the possibilities of closing all studios there on a certain night in each week.

SILENT TODAY

As the thousands of patrons of KHJ's concert have indicated their desire for one silent night each week is meant as no reflection upon their local broadcast, but simply desired as giving an

Broker Fraud Case Goes to Jurors Today

Charges of embezzlement against A. H. Woolcott, stock and bond broker, today will be given to a jury after Judge Hahn, before whom testimony has been given for the past week, reads the legal instructions dealing with the charges.

Woolcott is charged by Sam Bonnell, one of his clients, with embezzling several thousand dollars, given to him to buy wheat on Bonnell's account.

Bonnell testified that after he had given the buying order and waited for a rise in price that gave him a profit, he gave orders to sell his holdings, but found that he could not collect his money. He then caused Woolcott's arrest.

The Penalty of Neglect

Modern Life With Its Hurry, Worry and Constant Strain Is Taking a Heavy Toll in Diseases of Middle Age.

Is a constant backache wearing you out? Are you lame and aching; nervous and depressed? Do annoying kidney irregularities disturb your night's rest?

Then you should know that these are often signs of kidney disorder, and kidney trouble is too dangerous to neglect.

A famous medical authority has said the diseases that cut short lives today are those of middle life; heart disease, diseases of the kidneys and diseases of the blood-vessels. The danger is that they are insidious in their onset.

"Use Doan's," Say These Los Angeles People:

J. W. RICHMOND, 1213 E. Fifty-seventh Street, says: "Dull, throbbing pain settled over my kidneys and through my back. Finally, I got to where it was hard to get up or down. I had to ease myself around for fear of another one of these sharp, stabbing pains. Mornings my muscles and back were stiff, too. I started using Doan's Pills. They rid me of the ailment."

MRS. C. W. CAMPBELL, Route No. 12, Box 1772, says: "I had hearing down pain in my back and could only get around with great difficulty. Colored specks blurred my sight and when I moved quickly I became dizzy. My kidneys were disordered, too. A member of the family had been helped by Doan's Pills, so I tried them and they cured me of the attack."

Old Enough to
Wed, Must Pay,
Judge Orders

"A man old enough to marry is old enough to pay alimony," Judge Gates has ruled, after several weeks of delving into the law in connection with the demand of Inez Withers for support by Granville Withers, youthful film actor, pending trial of her suit for divorce.

When the motion was heard, Milton Golden, counsel for Withers, advanced the argument that he had married before he was 21, and that therefore he was not responsible for the financial obligations implied by the marriage contract.

This was a ploy for Judge Gates for a while. Presidents were sought, and the judge weighed them. His decision is on file today. Withers is ordered to contribute $50 a month to his wife's support. In her divorce complaint the wife testified that Withers said he had telegraphed her that he did not love her any more.

enough reserves are estimated to feed the mill for twenty-five years to come.

The company is paying off the indebtedness incurred in construction of the mill which cost about $5,000,000. Last month $200,000 was paid on the debt, and the due, which may be completely discharged next spring, is $1,000,000.

The stock is steady around $30 a share, pays a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share. Most of the stock is held by the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company and by Associated Mining Company and is a valued asset of the county.

MEMBER OF OLD FAMILY SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Petra S. De Verdugo, Born on Verdugo Homestead in 1846, Answers Last Call

In the death yesterday of Mrs. Petra S. De Verdugo at her residence, 111 East Grand avenue, San Gabriel, Los Angeles county, lies a member of one of the oldest families in this section. Mrs. De Verdugo was 79 years of age, and had been ill for some time.

Born in the old Verdugo homestead north of Glendale, July 4, 1846, she knew the Verdugo Hills section when vaqueros herded cattle over the hills and valleys which now are dotted with the ruins of prehistoric cities and beautiful homes. She became the wife of Jose Maria Verdugo, son of Julio Verdugo and grandson of Jose Maria Verdugo, who obtained from the King of Spain the original grant of land now known as the Rancho San Rafael and La Canada. The cities of Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank have sprung up in these grants during more recent years.

Mrs. Verdugo was beloved for her charitable work among the poor and needy. She was a devout Catholic and a member of the old San Gabriel Mission, having resided in the immediate vicinity of the old church during the last twenty-seven years. She leaves two daughters, Inez Verdugo of San Marino, Cal., and Mrs. Ramona Mendez of Glendale; and six sons: Manuel Verdugo, Los Angeles; P. S. Verdugo, Glendale Park, Los Angeles; and John M. Verdugo, Los Angeles; and Thomas Verdugo of San Gabriel.

The funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday with High Mass at the old San Gabriel Mission. Interment will be in the old mission cemetery adjoining the church, where many members of the distinguished family are buried. The body will lie in state at the San Gabriel Mission until the time of the service.

TWINS BORN; BIRTHDAYS DIFFERENT

Trick of Clock Nips Future Plans for Double-Header Parties in Osborne Home

There will be no double-header birthday parties for the Osborne twins. The twins, both sturdy seven-pound boys, thoughtfully established their right to individual birthday celebrations by putting the stroke of midnight between their respective entries into the world.

One twin was born just before midnight Saturday at the Good Samaritan Hospital. The other arrived just after midnight Sunday morning.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Osborne of 401 West Twenty-third street. Mr. Osborne is a testing engineer with offices in the Rives-Strong Building. He is the youngest son of the late Congressman Henry Z. Osborne of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Osborne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Strimbridge of Portland, Or.

MUST REDOUBLE EFFORTS

Community Chest Workers Start Second Week's Drive Under Handicap of Lagging Responses

Community Chest workers will open the second week of the campaign today in an effort to obtain enough contributions to complete the quota of $1,111,731. Considerably behind the point that was expected to have been reached by this time, volunteers are scheduled to put in four strenuous days, aiming to secure the budget before Thursday night.

When Saturday night's tabulations were made it was found that a total of $1,111,731 had been collected during the first half of the appeal. On Saturday, $114,896 was collected. There were 61,349 new subscribers, bringing the total of contributors to 124,761.

The ten-day campaign is scheduled to end Thursday night. Chest officials hope that by that time the entire quota will be raised. The budget represents an amount necessary to maintain 148 charitable and welfare institutions during the coming year. Citizens are urged to respond quickly to the appeal for funds that the campaign may end within the ten-day period.

Los Angeles must get behind this movement immediately," said R. W. Pridham, Chest president, last night. "While not downhearted, we are slightly disappointed at the showing made to date. There is much more to be done."

TO ENTERTAIN TODAY

Today's program, under the direction of Mrs. R. H. Collins, will be furnished through the courtesy of the West Coast Theater. Rube Wolff will act as master of ceremonies. The entire cast of the State Theater will appear. This includes Fanchon and Marco's Roses, starring Chas. and Hutton, Le-rail Sisters, Peggy Chamberlin, Marguerite and Le Claire, and a ballet of fifty girls.

With Rube Wolff directing, the Boulevard Theater Orchestra will supply symphony. Fanchon and Marco's undersea ballet also will appear. Included in the cast are Fay Adler, Ted Bradford, Savara and Brigante, Everett Woodman, Imogene Farrell and the undersea modals.

Marion Nixon and Laura La Plante, screen stars, will be guests of honor at the luncheon.

HEAVY TAX SAVING FOR SOUTHLAND

Goodcell Estimates New Revenue Law Will Mean Cut of $9,000,000

More than $9,000,000 will be saved annually to Southern California taxpayers if the new revenue bill, as proposed by the House Ways and Means Committee, becomes a law, Collector of Internal Revenue Goodcell disclosed yesterday.

His survey of the new measure discloses that the reduction on income taxes will amount to $1,115,300 annually, and to $1,308,333 each year on miscellaneous taxes, a total of $2,423,633.

In addition, the reduction in rates on automobiles, trucks, tires and accessories, if approved, will save Southern Californians $1,874,697 annually. Of this sum, the repeal of tax on tires and accessories, alone, will save $1,671,671, and $213,026 respectively, while the reduced rate on automobiles, still classified as a luxury, would save $1,652,455.

As compared to 1921, Federal taxes for the Southern District of California during the present year, show a reduction of approximately $20,000,000.

Data supplied from the collector's report shows that during the last year $109,135,440 was spent in this district for automobiles, trucks, tires and accessories as follows:

Autos, $78,172,800; trucks, $13,116,000; tires, $11,031,840; accessories, $11,645,000.

Miscellaneous tax reductions under the proposed bill would be as follows:

Distilled spirits, $87,414; cigars and tobacco, $5551; excise taxes, $1,652,455.

AUTO CAUGHT IN FLAMES

Tucker was asleep in his automobile, a short distance from the well house, when he was awakened by the rumble of the explosion. He leaped from his car a few seconds before the machine was caught in the roaring burst of flame which followed.

An eyewitness's account of the fire and its tragic sequel was given by Rube Wolff, who was standing near the well when the explosion occurred. "The well was shut down and we were waiting for a welder to fix some pipe. The prospects were that we would be kept idle for the night. The four of us sat in the dog house huddled about a little heater, for it was cold outside. At about 1:10 o'clock this morning Miller and I slipped out to find a warmer place to sleep. I crawled into my car and Miller said he was going to bunk between the boilers. We left Mickey and Martz in the shack."

He was awakened by a low rumbling sound which was followed by a loud roar. The dog house was in flames. I thought I heard Mickey scream, but I could not see him. By the time I had walked around to the other side of the fire some two or three minutes had elapsed.

PLAN TRAFFIC SAFETY DRIVE

Every Autoist Will Be Asked to Sign Pledge to Drive Carefully and Avoid Accidents

An intensive campaign to make the streets and highways of California safe for motorists and pedestrians will be inaugurated with a "Safety or Sorrow" luncheon to be given under the auspices of the California Public Safety Conference at the Ambassador Hotel, December 2. Committees are working on the preliminary arrangements of this gathering which will be one of the largest of its kind ever conducted in Southern California.

At the end of the appalling sacrifice of human life and unnecessary suffering caused by carelessness may be stopped—and the streets and highways of California made safe.

Mrs. Helen Lucile Holt, director of the women's department, California Development Association, and secretary-treasurer of the California Public Safety Conference, who was active in promoting a similar San Francisco luncheon, is in charge of arrangements and recently has arrived from San Francisco. Her headquarters while in Los Angeles are in the offices of the California Development Association in the W. J. Garland Building.

Two men were burned to death, two others narrowly escaped a similar fate and property damage of approximately $50,000 was caused in a spectacular explosion and fire which wrecked a well and other properties in the Athens-on-the-Hill field south of the city at an early hour yesterday morning. The two who were fatally burned were asleep at the time of the explosion in the "dog house" or shanty which houses the pumping machinery of the well. The two who escaped did so because they had descended the "dog house" only a short time before looking for a warmer place to sleep.

The catastrophe occurred at the No. 1 well of the Nathan W. Hale Oil Company. According to investigators, the supporting standards of an overhead setting tank containing oil collapsed, plunging the tank's contents over the dog house where it is believed to have been ignited by an open gas jet. In an instant the entire rigging was a mass of flames, in the midst of which there was a terrific explosion. The flames spread to the rig, tanks and equipment of the George F. Gentry, Inc., property adjacent, enveloping them. The dead are Malvin "Mickey" McClung, 35 years of age, well driller of 633 North Pickering street, Whittier, and Charles Martz, 47, pump man, of 1732 East Twentieth street, Long Beach. Those who escaped unhurt were Walter H. Tucker of 315 Concord avenue, Long Beach, and W. S. Miller of 317 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street.

FLAMES ENVELOPE SHACK

McClung met with almost instant death as he was trapped by the flames which enveloped the shanty where he had been sleeping. His body, a charred mass, was found twenty-five feet away from the building, which he attempted to flee. It was not recovered, however, until two hours after the explosion, when it was held at bay by the intense heat of the flames which licked about the victim.

The hands of McClung's watch, found beneath his burned body, stopped at 1:10 a.m. McClung was found with a terrible wound on his head, a terrible fire, Martz was seen to regain his feet and stumble to the opposite side of the building where he was caught by a falling beam. He was found by Oscar Martin of 1913 North Street, Compton. Martz slipped a sweater over his head and with it he smothered the burning which stuck to the soles of his shoes. The victim was rushed to the Athens Emergency Hospital, where his burns were dressed by Dr. V. J. Black. From there he was taken to the Los Angeles Hospital in Long Beach, where he died a few hours later.

The Lancer

Harry Carr

Not only are there more Indians in America than in Columbus's time; but they are richer.

That's what Frederic J. Haskin thinks is probably true—as evidenced from his interesting correspondence from Washington.

RICH—BUT POOR

Personally I think they are infinitely poorer. They have more money, but they are poorer—have stripped them of something more valuable than money.

INDIAN PHILOSOPHY

Before the white man came, the Indian lived a life of uplifted and poetic idealism. He had a beautiful religion and a philosophy that was, at once, enlightened and kind. That the white man saw it as a savage ideal worship was due to the ignorance and stupidity of the first settlers who came in contact with Indians.

SELF-TORTURE

The so-called torture dances, for instance.

The dances where warriors hung themselves up by things that cut through their living flesh; hung there until the flesh tore loose.

Until polluted by the white man, the self-inflicted torture was based upon a beautiful ideal which was this:

Often times, a warrior in desperate danger, offered a prayer to the Great Spirit to save his life.

REVENGE WORKS

Then he submitted himself to the agony of these dances to prove to the Great Spirit that he was not afraid of death.

Many times he was not even allowed to see the physical pain he was in, but he was to be spared for the protection of his family.

LIKE PROGRESS

Indian religion is too poetic for our understanding. Oshawa—the Sioux author, who took the American edition of Charles Alexander Eastman—states that the Indian had no thought of God worship when he placed his dearest possessions as a "sacrifice" upon the sacred rocks.

Like all consecrated things from Diogenes to St. Francis of Assisi, the primitive Indian considered that wealth and the enjoyment of luxury, the hoarding of material possessions were a snare and a source of needless peril and temptation.

Dead, purified in a vapor bath, dressed only in breech cloth and moccasins—he sought out the Great Spirit on the noblest height that he could find; and threw away his most valued earthly possessions.

SYMBOLISM

Although the Indians have been called "non workers" by the whites, they are really strong and hardy. They are not only strong and hardy, but they are also very intelligent. They are very intelligent and hardy.

But I know who is really laughing at which. In running this column, I get many letters of sarcasm and invective—and they roll off like water off a duck's back. But I must say, I quoted in shame before the naive, innocent politeness of these painted-up Hopi Indians.

Because I knew what were the thoughts behind their bland smiles; and my share of their scorn and contempt shriveled me to the backbone.

RECORD SET ON BRAILLE BIBLES

Largest Printing Job in All History Produced

Five Hundred Sets Turned Out at Society's Plant

Visitors Greatly Impressed as Demonstration Given

The largest single job of book printing on record in the Braille system of touch reading for the blind has been turned out in Los Angeles, according to figures obtained at the publishing plant of the Revised Braille Bible Society at 4415 West First street. Five hundred sets of Braille Bibles, five volumes to the set, were printed in this single job for distribution all over the United States and abroad.

Interested visitors who attended the meeting in response to an invitation extended to the public were given a demonstration by J. Robert Atkinson of the machinery used in printing and binding Bibles for the blind. The machine, invented by Mr. Atkinson, is the only one manufactured from his drawings. Though thousands of metal plates have been punched by it during the five years it has been in use it has been operated at less than $10 repair cost. At the conference of publishers for the blind last September in New York, the machine was exhibited and pronounced the most efficient of its kind in existence.

Mr. Atkinson, himself blind, demonstrated the machine, aided by his wife. His machine is the only one of its kind in operation to be electrically driven and controlled through use of a clutch. The publishing plant in Los Angeles is the only Braille institution in the country attempting what has been said to be the impossible feat of operating on a commercial basis. Mr. Atkinson stated that for five years it has been his dream to extend the scope of the local plant so that not only Bibles, but good fiction, educational and secular matter could be published for boys blind in the war and others who have suffered one of the greatest losses known to humanity, that of sight. "The blind do not want charity," Mr. Atkinson declared earnestly as he discussed his hopes of some day also publishing in Braille a magazine that would carry articles helpful to the blind in their trades and vocations, specializing on their needs. He pointed out that blind persons are listed among the country's successful doctors, lawyers, musicians and artists. On exhibition near his own machine Mr. Atkinson pointed to some rare examples of basket weaving by William Baller, a man who in spite of the loss of his eyesight has been making a determined and heroic struggle for self-support through operating a basket shop at 244 West Los Feliz Boulevard.

Bandits Hold Up Service Station Man and Autoist

R. W. Atwood, attendant of a Standard Oil station at 2527 West Washington street, reported to police early yesterday morning that two men entered the place as he was closing and robbed the cash register of $7. The bandits overtook $48 he carried in his wallet.

R. M. Blackman of 1127 West Forty-fifth street drove his car into his garage early yesterday morning. Two men stepped alongside of him as he alighted and relieved him of $150, according to his report to University police.

Redlands Congregation Split in Ouster Against Pastor

ROW IN CHURCH ENDS SERVICES

contends the ouster vote was taken at a packed meeting at which many persons not members of the congregation voted and that he will not quit unless put out by a majority vote of the more than 400 members.

"There have been covert attacks on my character," he said, "and I intend to stay at least until these are cleared up."

Both sides admit the dispute started over the quota of $1000 assigned to the church by the United Christian Missionary Society. The pastor and his supporters declare this amount burdensome and excessive and contend the church should distribute its missionary funds itself and not through the society. Other leaders of the faction opposing the pastor include, according to Trustees Odell, George Fulbright, E. G. Free, Ira Dean, F. P. Sappington, C. W. Wells and Earl Harris, D. C. McLaughlin, E. C. Cline, C. S. Stebbins, W. W. Bell, J. H. Howland, C. J. Upton, D. N. Elmer, Burnett and Ben.

Mr. Edwards held the pastorate for about three months, succeeding Rev. C. S. Kleckner, who resigned. At first he was acting pastor but later was installed by vote of the congregation. He came from Yuma, Ariz.

Supporters of the faction seeking to oust Mr. Edwards aver that the officers of the church who are supporting him ruled with "a high hand" and dictated the policies of the church without ever consulting members of the congregation. They also assert the meeting at which Mr. Edwards was chosen pastor did not represent a majority of the congregation and that members of the Christian Church of Pomona were imported to pack the vote.

PASTOR REPLIES

Following the service Mr. Edwards made a statement in which he said the faction which has instigated him is going to "tighten" and let matters take their course.

Uproar Marks Sunday Service

He declared he is satisfied everything that has been done to name him pastor is valid and that the controversy will eventually be brought to an end in favor of his followers. He occasionally mentioned during his sermon, "the insurrection" faction during his sermon. His faction feels, he said, no court action is necessary.

At the proceedings at which the "insurrection" voted to oust Mr. Edwards they voted at the same time to oust the three elders and three members of the board of trustees who are backing the present pastor, and proceeded with the election of new members to replace them. They claim control of the church even though they walked out and declined to hear Mr. Edwards' sermon.

Mr. Odell also said that his faction will ask the Superior Court for a permanent injunction restraining any person from prohibiting their admittance to the church or conducting services. A temporary order was issued several days ago. The insurgent faction had intended inviting an outside Christian minister to preach a sermon at this morning's services and for a time it looked though two preachers were going to occupy the pulpit at the same time. Mr. Odell said, however, the elders and trustees of the faction decided this course would not be wise in the circumstances and no attempt was made by them to hold services with the pastor of their favor in the pulpit.

He declared the faction opposed to Mr. Edwards consists of the oldest members of the church and that Mr. Edwards' supporters are among the new members.

Arrangements for the merging of the distributing organizations of the church, the United Artists and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film producing corporations should be completed Thursday, according to announcements made after a meeting of representatives of both concerns at the Beverly Hills home of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford yesterday. The agreement then will go to New York for approval by the boards of directors of both concerns.

TWO PERISH IN OIL EXPLOSION

of the fellows were carrying Marts away.

In the opinion of Detective Lieutenant W. W. Thompson and L. C. Kirk of the Seventy-seventh street station, who investigated, the fire and accompanying explosion were caused by the collapsing of an elevated 200-barrel settling tank which spilled its contents of high-gravity oil over the shack below. Evidence showed that the stills which supported the tank had been broken, they said. The rain of oil is believed to have become ignited by the jet flame of the heater in the hut, and at the same time causing an explosion. "This belief was confirmed by Police Sergeant Benjamin and Officers Robinson and O'Hilliam, who were among the first to reach the scene. Firemen under Battalion Chiefs Critch and Gripe battled with the flames for more than eight hours before the blast was finally extinguished. More than 1000 barrels of crude in the tanks of the Getty property went up in smoke. The work of the firemen and volunteers checked the conflagration from spreading over the field. In immediate danger was the Parkins well of the Julian Petroleum Corporation which adjoins the Hale property.

The body of Marts was removed to the Edgar McFadden mortuary in Long Beach. McClung's body was taken to the J. V. Coleman undertaking parlors in Whittier.

Advertising Club Head to Address Luncheon Here

A speaker of international renown will address the Advertising Club of Los Angeles tomorrow at its luncheon at the Biltmore. He is C. King Woodbridge, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

Don Francisco de Lord & Thomas, past president of the local advertising club and of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association will be chairman of the meeting. The entertainment will be supplied by Monimia Taylor Rubie, lyric soprano, who recently came to Los Angeles from Chicago, after an extensive concert and operatic tour in the East. Lorna Gregg will be her accompanist. Delegations from several Southern California advertising clubs will be present.

EDGEWATER CLUB GROWS

Membership of the Edgewater Club is growing rapidly as the new clubhouse approaches completion. R. J. Connors, its president, said yesterday. He predicted that Santa Monica, with its numerous clubs, will soon become the social center of the Los Angeles district.

SAYS BABY BORROWED BY SPOUSE

Husband Fighting Alimony Action Doubts Child Was Born to His Wife

Mrs. Ida Adeline Morris has "borrowed" a baby to use in her fight for alimony, according to charges made by John E. Morris, her husband, in his cross-complaint to her suit for divorce, recently instituted.

Morris said he had heard nothing about any baby or any prospects of a baby up to the time he separated from his wife in February, 1934. Nevertheless, he related, in the following July word was sent him that he was a father. So he went to see the baby. While he was at his wife's home, he was presented with certain documents to sign for the Bureau of Vital Statistics, and he noted that the name of the physician who assisted the work in the matter was not shown, he said. Nor would his wife tell him the name of the doctor then, nor later when he was called to the District Attorney's office on a charge of non-support.

This circumstance, the complaint recited, resulted in the District Attorney's refusal to prosecute the action.

Morris gave it as his opinion that the baby is simply one that his wife is using to influence the court in the matter of temporary alimony, which is on Judge Gaters' calendar for early hearing.

GREATEST SUM IN INCOME LEVY

$475,530; occupational taxes, $151,673; stamp taxes, $68,884.

"When the people of ten counties of California are able to save more than $100,000,000 for automobiles and accessories in one year, business conditions could not be otherwise than right," Collector Goodell stated.

Council Raises White Flag in Tules Battle

The expression, "in the tules," when used in municipal ordinances, usually means the best to which a policeman, in disfavor, has been dispatched as an object lesson, but now the Board of Public Works finds itself in that same predicament.

The Hauser Estate Company has complained of the growth of tules in the Colma-street drainage canal, said tules having been devastated some time ago by the board, but, undismayed, have raised their heads to look about again.

The board confines the tules have it beaten.

"If once started, it will be necessary to repeat the removal from time to time at a large annual expense," says the report.

Orders have been given for a storm drain in this channel, upon the completion of which the tules will be defeated by the potent charm of concrete, therefore the board requests authority to discontinue its present battle of the tules.

FILM DEAL ACCORD DUE THURSDAY

Huge Merger Discussed at Meeting Conducted in the Home of Fairbanks

Arrangements for the merging of the distributing organizations of the church, the United Artists and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film producing corporations should be completed Thursday, according to announcements made after a meeting of representatives of both concerns at the Beverly Hills home of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford yesterday. The agreement then will go to New York for approval by the boards of directors of both concerns.

The distribution merger presented about two dozen points to be settled, several of which were acted upon yesterday, according to Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of United Artists board of directors. He estimates that the merger will save from 10 to 15 per cent yearly in distribution costs, which will mean an impressive saving in expense to each organization.

"Everything is progressing smoothly," Schenck said. "We plan to hold daily conferences on the subject, which, according to present indications, should be concluded Thursday. The agreement then will have to be acted upon by the boards of directors of both organizations in New York."

It was reiterated that, despite persistent rumors to the contrary, no amalgamation of producing units is contemplated. The proposed merger, it is said, should give Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer better foreign releasing facilities, and improve the local service of United Artists.

Those present at the meeting were Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Joseph M. Schenck, Dennis O'Brien, counsel for United Artists; Robert Rubin, counsel for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; Hiram Abrams, president of United Artists; Nicholas Schenck, representing Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and Robert Fairbanks.

SUPREME REGENT OF MOOSE TO VISIT HERE

A. Vander Nellen, Jr., of Oakland, Supreme Regent of the Loy-land Order of Moose, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow to confer with officials of that order in various sections of the Southland.

Mr. Vander Nellen, who is one of the five Regents of the Order of Moose, will give an address at the Moose lodge room, 437 South Hill street, next Wednesday evening. All Moose and their friends are invited.

Mrs. Katherine P. Edison is credited with the creation of the California law for women, creating a minimum wage for them.

Members of the Edgewater Club are growing rapidly as the new clubhouse approaches completion. R. J. Connors, its president, said yesterday. He predicted that Santa Monica, with its numerous clubs, will soon become the social center of the Los Angeles district.

American Education Week

The President of the United States has issued a Proclamation in part as follows:—

"I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do proclaim the week beginning November sixteenth, 1925, as American Education Week, and I urge that it be observed throughout the United States."

If it does nothing more than to draw the thoughts of the public at large closer to things pertaining to the education of our youth, President Coolidge's proclamation will have accomplished much. The Welfare of our nation depends to a large extent upon the proper enlightenment of the people through a liberal education.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Some one has defined a member of continental society as a person who always is on the way somewhere else, and, indeed, there is a grain of truth in this. "Seasons" on the continent are short and one hurries from the grande semaine in Deauville and on to the large week in Biarritz.

Just now, with the Paris fair season hardly under way, talk has turned to the Riviera and Bay of Naples, and already many members of Parisian society are winging their way southward to augment arrivals on the Mediterranean slope from the Americas by the southern route.

Hotels at Rapallo, Cannes, Monte Carlo and Nice have opened and rapidly are filling, while the season in Cairo will start unusually early this year, due to the arrival next month of the first two of the winter Mediterranean cruises which ordinarily do not arrive until December or January.

Mrs. Loren Crenshaw is stopping indefinitely at the Hotel Regina in Paris, while Mrs. Arthur Schneider has arrived at the Hotel Monnaie in Paris from Madrid, Spain, accompanied by the Misses Schneider.

Other California girls who are in Paris this winter are Frances Blewett of San Mateo, who

The Woman and Her Job

BY VALERIE WATROUS

(Questions concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watrous at The Times.)

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Mrs. Watrous: I want to find a position as reader of books, but how does one obtain a hearing? I have had work in synopsis writing, and feel I could make myself valuable if I could get a chance. Can you give me any advice? S. B. C.

Dear Miss C.: I laid your letter to rest much faster than that of this alleged teacher. My informant also assures me that one must have "pull" to get a hearing. Perhaps you have some friend who could introduce you to some department head; this introduction should give you an opportunity to interview the chief.

Not all studies are conducted in the same manner. If I wanted such a job as you seem to think you do, I'd go out and interview gatekeepers, casting directors, or anybody I could reach. My own machine I'd have a stroke of luck and find that somebody had fallen dead and I'd be allowed to fill in.

It may be that some of these casting agencies also find placement for other persons not eager for screen fame. Go and talk it over, but don't part with any money till you see a job in sight. Perhaps the regular employment agencies in Hollywood also know of some of these vacancies, or would interview themselves in placing you if you made it sufficiently attractive.

The young woman I mention told me that many women entered the studios in any capacity in order to make a start. Some began as telephone girls, stenographers, typists, and then once inside promoted acquaintance in the direction they wished to go.

Dear Miss S.: I cannot publish names in this column. If you will send me stamped envelopes I will give you the names of several women who will teach you to drive a car, and will also give you some of the lessons. Any one of these women has had years of experience in driving and some of them claim to have been successful teachers.

7th inst. by Miss Kathleen Hacker of Santa Monica, those included were Miss Margarette Brunsell, Miss Inez Grosfeld, Miss Bernice Hamilton, Miss Caroline Pierson, Miss Ethel Robinson, Miss C. H. Smith, Miss Charlotte Sulte, Miss Verona Young, Miss Beatrice Weigle, Miss Jessie Wilson, Miss Bertha Wilson, Miss Nathan Shutt and Mrs. Nancy Hacker.

Vitamines
Raw cabbage is splendid for the system on account of its supply of vitamins. When having cooked cabbage for dinner, first cut out a wedged-shaped piece and save it for salads. Then cook the rest. Experience drives and some of them claim to have been successful teachers.

Use Straw Flowers
Artificial flowers are usually so obvious that they do not add beauty to the home. However, the dainty straw flowers are decidedly attractive and make a most homelike winter decoration for the wall table or desk.

Solled Kilmoss
Most women are very particular that their home dresses and brooks are spotlessly clean. Yet why it is these same women wash their kilmoss about once a year and think that is sufficient?

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

This and That

Place hot ashes in metal containers. Paint the shelves in the medicine closet with white paint, then they are easily wiped out if any medicine is spilled.

A button bag near the clothes washer is convenient to hold any buttons that may be wrung off, they are sometimes hard to match. The housewife who knows so many good recipes for casearoles and oven dishes is bound to be thoughtful and economical cook.

Many Preparations
When preparing dinner just as rapidly as possible it is usually the potatoes that cause the trouble and are not done when hubby arrives home. Pare them and cut into small pieces. While paring have the kettle of water heating. Boil rapidly and mash when tender. They will be done in fifteen minutes at the longest.

Hardened Glass
A little vinegar poured over the hardened blue and allowed to stand for a few days will render it soft and fit for use.

When Making Lamp Shades
About now we are all interested in a new shade for some lamp in the house, and it is well to bear in mind that there is a splendid foundation color. It combines with practically and color and sheds a soft, yet bright light.

The Glass Cabinet
When washing the glass pieces of glass use lukewarm water which has been softened by a little soap. Ammonia and soda but polish the cutglass with a Turkish towel; it gets into all the tiny cuts and makes the glassware glitter.

Mother Calls on Court to Regain 4-Year-Old Son

Seeking to regain the custody of her 4-year-old son, who, she said, has been absent from her home for approximately a year, Mrs. Alma Moriarty has filed a habeas corpus action in Judge Archibald's Juvenile Court asking that Mrs. M. D. Dunn and a Mrs. McClintock be cited to deliver the child in court.

Mrs. Moriarty said she was given the boy's custody in a divorce proceeding and that she turned him over to Mrs. Dunn about a year ago with the understanding she was to have him returned to her upon her request. Mrs. Dunn, according to Mrs. Moriarty, turned the boy over to Mrs. McClintock without her consent or knowledge and she declared the pair now have the boy and have decided to return him to his mother.

Neither of the respondents is related to the boy, according to Mrs. Moriarty's petition. The case is scheduled to come before Judge Archibald this week.

WIDOWS AND WIDOWERS HAPPY NOW

Sandwiches and Married Reminiscences Bring Cheer to Bereft Club Members

Fifty members of the I Want To Be Happy Widows and Widowers' Club exchanged sandwiches and married experiences yesterday afternoon in Sycamore Grove, between hills they discussed also the relative merits of the Charleston and the Virginia reel. Hot coffee was "on tap," introductions were easy to obtain and not the slightest evidence of unhappiness was apparent.

The club, founded seven weeks ago by F. Edward Barker, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Erbes and her mother, Mrs. Katharine Hase, said today they assert they have found the fountain of youth in one another's company. Longlines have vanished and the millionaires of middle-aged widows and widowers who formerly were pessimists today they assert they have found the fountain of youth in one another's company. Longlines have vanished and the millionaires of middle-aged widows and widowers who formerly were pessimists today they assert they have found the fountain of youth in one another's company.

Officers of the club deny vigorously that the organization has a matrimonial experiment. In fact, they view with pride the statement that in the seven weeks since the club's existence not a single engagement has been reported. Whether the double-barreled experiences of members have made them "gun shy" is quite beside the question, they add.

"We don't encourage remarriage to join the club," Barker said yesterday, "and we demand references of each prospective member. Of course, some day we might form an auxiliary of bachelors and spinsters, but that's not a problem in the first about now."

The real problems, he explained, are two. One is the problem of creating a sinking fund for the purchase or construction of a club building; the other is a problem of getting members to give dances. The club's first dance was given the 7th inst. at 237 1-3 South Hill street. Last Saturday the applied for a permit for another dance, and the Police Commission refused the request. Barker said yesterday that the block in question already had too many dance halls. Today they will apply for a permit to hold the next dance in the Flower Auditorium.

City's Suit to Open Broadway Set Tomorrow

Action on the city's suit involving the proposed opening and extension of Broadway from Pershing street south to Fort Street will begin in the Superior Court before Judge Craig tomorrow.

Unless objection is made to the trial demanded, Judge Craig will appoint three referees to determine the price to be paid property owners for land that must be acquired in condemnation proceedings.

Only a few objections were made to the original proceedings for the opening and extension.

PASADENA ATTORNEY GOES ON TRIAL TODAY

Daniel Ritorian, Pasadena attorney, who is accused of three counts of embezzlement of money from Clara Burg, an elderly woman, is scheduled to appear in Judge Burnell's court today for trial. The case has been continued several times on account of other cases then on trial. Ritorian is charged with having obtained $7000 from Miss Burg in three sums, in connection with a will he filed. It is charged, for $10,000 against a Pasadena man on a note for $1000 and in connection with other matters handled by him for the complaining witness. The case will be prosecuted by Dep. District Attorney Murray and Clark.

Black-tipped Lacquer-red

—the color Men Choose when they buy their own Pens

Handsome to carry—Hard to mislay

Ladies, please take notes

It's a great deal easier to select a pen for a man than, for instance, a necktie. For men's ideas in neckwear are vastly dissimilar, but in pens their choice is almost unanimous.

Note what the great majority carries—the black-tipped lacquer-red—the patented Parker Duofold color combination that flashes the eye a happy reminder if a man starts to leave his pen behind.

Of course the 25-year smooth-gliding point also has much to do with men's preference for the Parker Duofold. Likewise the handy Hand-size Grip, Over-size Ink Capacity, Free-Swinging Balance, and Invisible Filler—out of harm's way.

Whatever it is that men most prize in the Parker, of one thing the ladies may be sure—Black-tipped Lacquer-red is a man's own choice of color, just as Parker Duofold is his choice of pens.

Good pen counters wouldn't be without it—stop at the nearest.

There's Nothing "Plain"

There's nothing that suggests the cheap being caterers to mind! As you can do it—any cook can make of the "plainest" dishes the most pleasing, professional taste!

A new element that many chefs and thousands of housewives know—Vegex. Not a sauce. Not a cream. A highly-concentrated vegetable essence that rounds out, and adds to what is otherwise "plain."

Vegex owes its popularity to its appeal to the palate. It "tastes good." But Vegex does more than that. It provides mineral salts that every human body needs to function at its best. In fact, the things that are otherwise "plain."

CHANGES URGED ON CITY AUTOS

Transportation Report to be Given Council Today

Retention of Privately Owned Cars Recommended

Expert Outlines Checking and Rates for Mileage

Swapping changes in the number of city-owned and operated automobiles were recommended in a report which will be furnished the City Council today by Roy Knox, director of budget and efficiency.

The report was asked by the Council when it was learned that vast sums are being expended annually in the upkeep of automobiles owned by the city and driven by city employees. Another system in vogue was to permit an employee to drive his own car and pay him for its use on a mileage basis.

The report recommended that city-owned cars should include one for the Mayor, two for the Council, one for the Board of Public Works, one for the City Engineer and the entire complement of the fire department and police department. All of these, with the exception of the fire department vehicles, to be maintained in the police department and police department.

A survey should be made by the chief of the machine shop on the cars which should be disposed of and those which should be retained and the good cars retained in use, the report recommends. Department heads should submit a list of men who require transportation and the methods used in checking the mileage. Mileage should be paid privately owned cars on the following basis: 7 cents a mile for less than 500 miles a month; 9 cents a mile for totals between 500 miles and 1000 miles a month; and 8 cents a mile for all above 1000 miles.

Knox's study led him to conclude that it is more economical to pay

FISH AND GAME MERGER UP

Organizations Combine to Better Protect Wild Species in State's Rivers and Forests

Consolidation of two influential associations fighting for preservation and propagation of fish and game will be perfected at a meeting to be conducted on the 15th inst., at the offices of the Conservation Association of Southern California in the Broadway Building, third street and Broadway, it was announced yesterday.

The associations involved in this consolidation plan are the Southern California Sportsmen Association and the California Game and Fish Association. The two bodies have a combined membership of more than 3500.

According to Harold S. Ryerson, secretary-manager of the conservation association and secretary of the California Game and Fish Association, the plan for the consolidation is the first step of a movement to organize into one body various associations, clubs and societies working in the interest of fish and game preservation to concentrate the work.

Preliminary plans for the merger were discussed at a conference between Ryerson and B. N. Barnhart, vice-president of the Southern California Sportsmen Association. The meeting on the 15th inst. will bring together the officers of the two organizations to complete the consolidation, choose the officers and select a name. Persons interested in fish and game preservation are invited to attend the meeting.

The program of the new organization, according to Ryerson and Barnhart, will be:

TWO TANGLED IN ALIMONY ROW

Wife Charges Mate Entertains Dancer

Alimony of Maurice George Loxford, local real estate man, to pay alimony to the wife from whom he has been separated for several months, will be definitely decided at 2 o'clock this afternoon before Judge Summerfield when Nola Loxford, pretty motion picture actress, will press her demands for financial aid from her estranged mate.

To bolster her contentions that Loxford is financially able to pay alimony, Mrs. Loxford has prepared a new plan of attack through the subpoenaing of Miss Mia Marvin, 1242 Brunswick Boulevard, Pasadena, and a saleswoman with the "No. 30, Nantette" company. Mrs. Loxford charges that her former husband was seen in company with Miss Marvin on numerous occasions and contends that if he has been financially able to entertain the dancer, he is able to pay the alimony she asks.

Last October she asked that financial assistance be obtained for her from Loxford. She charged at that time that she had been given only $7.50 by her former husband. She was corroborated by her rock on the daughter, sister of Theda Bara.

Loxford declared that he was a commission salesman and as he had made no sales he had no money. His former wife then brought Miss Marvin into the case by asking how he could so around with a member of the "No. 30, Nantette" chorus. Loxford responded by saying that he had simply a guest at the home of Miss Marvin's mother and that he had spent nothing on the daughter.

Judge Summerfield continued the case for four weeks and advised Loxford to obtain employment. K. Thatcher Marvin, brother of Miss Marvin, stated last night that Loxford had become a guest at his invitation when Loxford was ill with the influenza.

According to Marshall, attorney for Mrs. Loxford, the Loxfords have been separated about ten months. Mrs. Loxford filed suit for divorce on charges of cruelty and desertion. She charged in her divorce complaint that she had been pawn her wedding ring to buy food and that she had been forced to live in a squalor until she had made a name for herself on the screen and could better her condition.

Condensed milk from other countries must be fully described in Turkish on the label, according to a recent edict.

But the rules said positively that they must be sent by mail. Why did you change the rule? For your benefit so that all may have until the last minute to complete their matching, and also because extra copies of the photograph section had to be provided—also for your benefit.

I missed one number of the photographs. Where can I get it? With some exceptions, at the circulation counter, first floor, Times Building, First and Broadway, or at The Times branch office, 631 South Spring street. The exceptions are the issues of October 4, 11 and 18. They are all gone. Copies of the issues of October 25 and November 1 and 8 are still available.

How can I get information regarding the contest? Call Metropolitan 8760, station No. 49.

Were there any catches in the contest, that is, was one of the twin pictures taken at one time and its companion picture later? There are no catches.

When does the contest end? All answers must be submitted not later than 6 p.m., Wednesday, November 12.

Will the correct matching be given in the paper after the contest? Yes, a page showing the twins correctly matched will be printed in The Times immediately after the contest ends.

When will the winners be announced? As soon as possible. The judging will begin immediately at the end of the contest, and carried forward without interruption until every entry is disposed of.

Can more than one set of twins be placed on a sheet of paper? Yes, but place them side by side; better, overlap the matched set a little.

Shall I leave the numbers on? Yes, they are for the guidance of the judges.

If I cut the number off, what had I better do? Better put it back on again.

Can I get my entry back? No.

What will be done with them? The suggestion has been made that they be turned over to the children's hospitals and orphanages. It is a good idea; children like to look at pictures.

Suppose two or more get them all exactly right? The nearest will get first prize, the next nearest, second and so on. If there is an absolute tie the same prize will be given each.

4 SQUARE SERVICE

A person isn't worth much unless he has a combination of good qualities. It isn't enough to be just good looking—or economical in his habits—or physically husky.

It's the same with an electric heater. Majestic's big popularity is due to its 4-square combination. That's why "Majestic is King of them all." Fully approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Special long-life heating element. Dead air insulation keeps back cool. Three sizes.

Pacific Southwest REVIEW

EIGHTY thousand people will meet this week in the Los Angeles Coliseum, one of the largest amphitheaters in the world, to watch twenty-two husky young men pummel each other for possession of a pigskin ball.

Looking over the sea of faces in that great amphitheater you cannot fail but be impressed that eighty thousand is quite a gathering of people. Yet it would take four amphitheaters that large to hold all the customers of the First National-Pacific-Southwest Banking Group. More than 300,000 people have endorsed the services of this group by doing business with it in various cities from Fresno to the Mexican line.

"LIVING INSURANCE"
Do you know what "Living Insurance" is? It is a fund accumulated and laid aside by an individual so that should his earnings be suddenly less than at present or be completely cut off for a time, because of sickness, ill health or business misfortune, he would be able to get on financially until he was making an adequate living again.

Half of a year's earnings is considered the ideal amount of "Living Insurance" anyone should carry. Five years is the suggested time in which to acquire it.

For instance, a person with an annual earning of $1000 should have "Living Insurance" of $500 and should acquire it by monthly deposits in a Saving Account of $7.50, which, plus interest, will amount to the desired sum in five years.

"Living Insurance" will carry one safely through the financial crises of the average lifetime.

INVITING DARK DEEDS
DARK streets invite dark deeds. So think residents of various sections of the city who recently persuaded the City Council to appropriate $5000 for the installation of arc lights to cast a crime-eliminating glow on dark corners.

Full pocketbooks also encourage hold-up men. Put your money in the bank and pay bills by check. If a crook takes your pocketbook, he takes your money; if he takes your check book, your money is still safe in the bank. When crime ceases to be profitable, crime will wane. Check it with a check book!

WHAT MONEY DOES
HERE'S an uplifting thought from one of the dailies. Item: "While you were reading this Henry Ford made ten dollars."

We don't think the father of the flivver gains his money quite that fast, but we do know that he makes ten dollars a whole lot easier than most of us make ten cents. What inspiring thought should we gain from that? It is this: If you have money you can make money. Underline that. It may be a platitude but it has a punch!

IN Henry Ford's factory waste is unknown. He saves "worthless" bits of string and metal and by the end of a year has changed them into many thousands of dollars saved. Those saved dollars he puts to work earning more.

When we cut out waste in our ways of living and save the difference we soon accumulate a nucleus which, one day, well-invested, will produce quite a tidy little income.

VICE RAID NETS BAG OF SEVENTY

Doors Battered Down When Police Sweep City

Huge Quantities of Liquor Seized by Poses

Gambling Paraphernalia in Several Places

Sweeping through every section of the city and swinging every door from hinges to hinges, more than a score of officers under the command of Inspector Davis, head of the vice division, conducted a series of spectacular raids early yesterday morning and placed under arrest three scores and ten and women on liquor, gambling and social vagrancy charges.

The drive produced huge quantities of liquor, stills confiscated in operation, thousands of gallons of mash to be made into whiskey, many gallons of wine, and a large assortment of gambling paraphernalia, such as dice and lottery tickets. One of the raids, at Alpine and Castelar streets, was witnessed by more than 1000 persons who left their merry-making at a street carnival a few blocks away to watch the officers extract scores of bottles of liquor from an innocent-looking delivery car parked in the shadow of a large tree.

South of town, "Little Italy," the Chinatown and the residential sections of the city were the scenes of the vice division's raiding activity. The raids were executed under the personal direction of Inspector Davis, and were conducted in the different sections of the city by Lieut. Lucas, Sergts. Sweetman, Simpson and Childers, and Officers Caddell, McRae, Washburn and Howrey, each in charge of a squad of men.

FELONY SUSPECTED
In one raid, a spectacular, crashing affair, in which strong wooden doors were battered down by the members of Sgt. Simpson's detail, two men were held on suspicion of felony.

These, who gave the name of A. Becker, was caught with a loaded revolver in his possession, say the police. His companion, who gave the name of J. A. Wilkerson, is said by the police to have admitted his friendship for Becker and the fact that he had rented an automobile that night. Wilkerson declared he rented the car to visit his brother in a near-by city, and both denied that they planned any crime.

The still and mash, with some freshly manufactured liquor, came from 1648 East Fifty-eighth street. Where Sgt. Childers and his men arrested Richard Picciotto, the officers say they watched Becker place for several days and made the arrest when they smelled the still in operation. "It is better to be making liquor than going out and holding up people," the officers say the defendant told them after his arrest.

ARREST BRINGS CROWD
The well-attended raid at Castelar and Alpine streets netted in addition to the large assortment of wine and whiskey a man who gave the name of John Gerasta. The police say they watched him go to the delivery wagon several times during the evening and take packages out of it. When about to be placed under arrest the man is said to have thrown a large bottle of wine on the sidewalk. The connection caused by his arrest drew the carnival through.

While Sgt. Childers and Officer McRae were speccing in liquor in the southeast and south-eastern sections of the city, and in "Little Italy" Lieut. Lucas and his men devoted their attention to taxicab bootleggers. Four arrests were made by these men who produced liquor and made the sales.

EXPERT DEALER
Sonoma Town received its share of attention from Officers Schaefer and Randolph, who made arrests at 484 and 612 North Spring streets, 1623 1-5 North Broadway, 541 North Broadway, Sunset and New High streets and some near-by alleys. In one place the officers watched through the windows of a place that had baffled the police for months. After considerable watching the officers discovered the "plant" under the arm of a Mexican waitress who was so expert, the officers say, that she went about her work using both arms, without losing hold of the pint of whiskey from which she occasionally poured out well-measured drinks.

The gambling raids included lottery arrests at 27-29 North Los Angeles street, 216 West Third street, where a man giving the name of George Raballite was arrested for having in his possession tickets of a lottery based on bank-clearing figures; 1018 Maple avenue, where the arrested gambler was made attractive by the presence of a goodly supply of whiskey; and 5316 Long Beach avenue, where police sledge hammers played havoc with the doors.

Sgt. Childers and his men placed Officer Hardley in a garage near Forty-seventh and Hooper avenue, with instructions to wait. Hardley waited until Phillip Gaborale drove in and then placed him under arrest on the charge of being the owner of a large "plant," which included liquor and empty bottles.

The remaining raids were scattered through the downtown district and several locations in Hollywood.

CHINESE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FIGHT
Tong Ching, 45 years of age, a peddler of San Gabriel, probably will die as the result of a fist fight yesterday with three Americans and two Mexicans, youths at the Terminal Market. Jim Louie, 36, also a peddler, came to Tong's assistance during the fight and got a number of scratches and bruises. A blow full on the chin knocked Tong Ching down. The back of his head struck the sidewalk and he suffered a basal skull fracture. He was taken to Receiving Hospital. The five youths are being sought.

BURGLAR TRIES TO KILL VICTIM

Asphyxiation Attempted in Morning Attack

Intruder Opens Gas Jet and Ransacks Room

Woman Awakened by Noise Calls Neighbors

A burglar who tries to asphyxiate his victims and then ransack their homes while they are succumbing to the deadly gas fumes made his appearance in Los Angeles early yesterday morning. His first attempt was a failure probably due to the fact that he stumbled over a bedroom chair and awakened his intended victim.

Detective reports were furnished a description of the man by neighbors of Mrs. N. J. Salsberry, 3321 Gleason avenue, who told him as he ran from her home.

Mrs. Salsberry retired early on Saturday night. During the last few days she placed a gas heater in her room. About midnight she was awakened by some one tripping over a chair close to her bed. Waking up, she saw the dim form of a man being over the bureau. At the same time Mrs. Salsberry detected a strong odor of gas. Her screams aroused neighbors who rushed from their homes in time to see a man run across the front yard of the Salsberry home and disappear into a side street.

When the neighbors entered Mrs. Salsberry's bedroom they found the room filled with the fumes. The intruder fled without obtaining any plunder, according to the police report.

Mrs. Salsberry was revived without being removed to a hospital. The man is described as being about 30 years of age.

FUGITIVE IN GRAVEYARD GUNBATTLE
Suspect Wounded Twice After Shooting Officer From Behind Tombstone

Pursuing a fugitive around and about the graveyards of Hollywood Cemetery, Officer A. J. Smith, though shot through the shoulder, aided in planting two bullets in the fugitive's back and in forcing his surrender, according to his report yesterday.

The report yesterday described himself as Alex. Meyers, 23 years of age, of 2923 Menlo avenue. He was caught hiding behind a tombstone. Neither man's wounds are serious.

According to Detective Lieutenant Vail, who investigated the shooting, Officer A. J. Smith first encountered Meyers on Hollywood Boulevard, adjoining the cemetery, became suspicious of his actions and started to search him. Meyers grappled with the officer and Smith came to Henry's assistance.

Meyers broke away from Henry's grasp, it was declared, drew his revolver and fired at Officer Smith, then took refuge in the cemetery where the officers pursued him. The officers chased him to near the center of the burial ground, firing as they went, before they effected his capture.

The two wounded men were then taken to Receiving Hospital for treatment by Police Surgeon Savarien. Meyers is being held for investigation.

GARBUTT TO FACE DOOM AGAIN TODAY
Pasadena Murderer After Losing Appeals Will be Given Final Sentence

Death, for the second time, will face Harry Garbutt, alias Connor, when he appears today before Judge Burnell for sentence on a charge of first-degree murder. Garbutt recently lost an appeal to the State Supreme Court on a verdict finding him guilty of first-degree murder for the slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Le Hunn on September 19, 1934, at the woman's home on Madison avenue, Pasadena.

Garbutt, having been found guilty of beating Mrs. Hunn with a hammer and shooting her to death, was sentenced to be hanged, but he appealed to the District Court. The case was tried before Judge Carl, now sitting in the civil branch of the Superior Court.

STERTOROUS PLEA WINS R.I.P.

Henceforth Bert Magnus May Indulge Snoring Proclivities to Fullest Extent With Issuance of Decree Ridding Him of All Wifely Interference

From now on Bert Magnus can snore, at least, without feeling guilty about it. For he has behind him the authority of the Superior Court in the opinion that interference with a man's snoring is a form of extreme cruelty for which he is entitled to whatever relief the law affords.

It has been a long time since Magnus has snored with complacency, he told Judge Gates, when he appeared to seek a divorce.

FOOT BRIDGE URGED FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN
The construction of a foot bridge across a gully in Edna street, west of Dorchester avenue, was recommended to the City Council by the Board of Public Works, following the report of the City Engineer. The cost of the bridge was estimated at $500. It is for the accommodation of school children, who otherwise, during rainy weather, would be forced to go 3100 feet out of the way.

FRITH TO SET LIQUOR TRAP

Parley With Hotel Men on Campaign Planned

Local Office Clearinghouse for Violations

Federal Agents to Attend County Actions

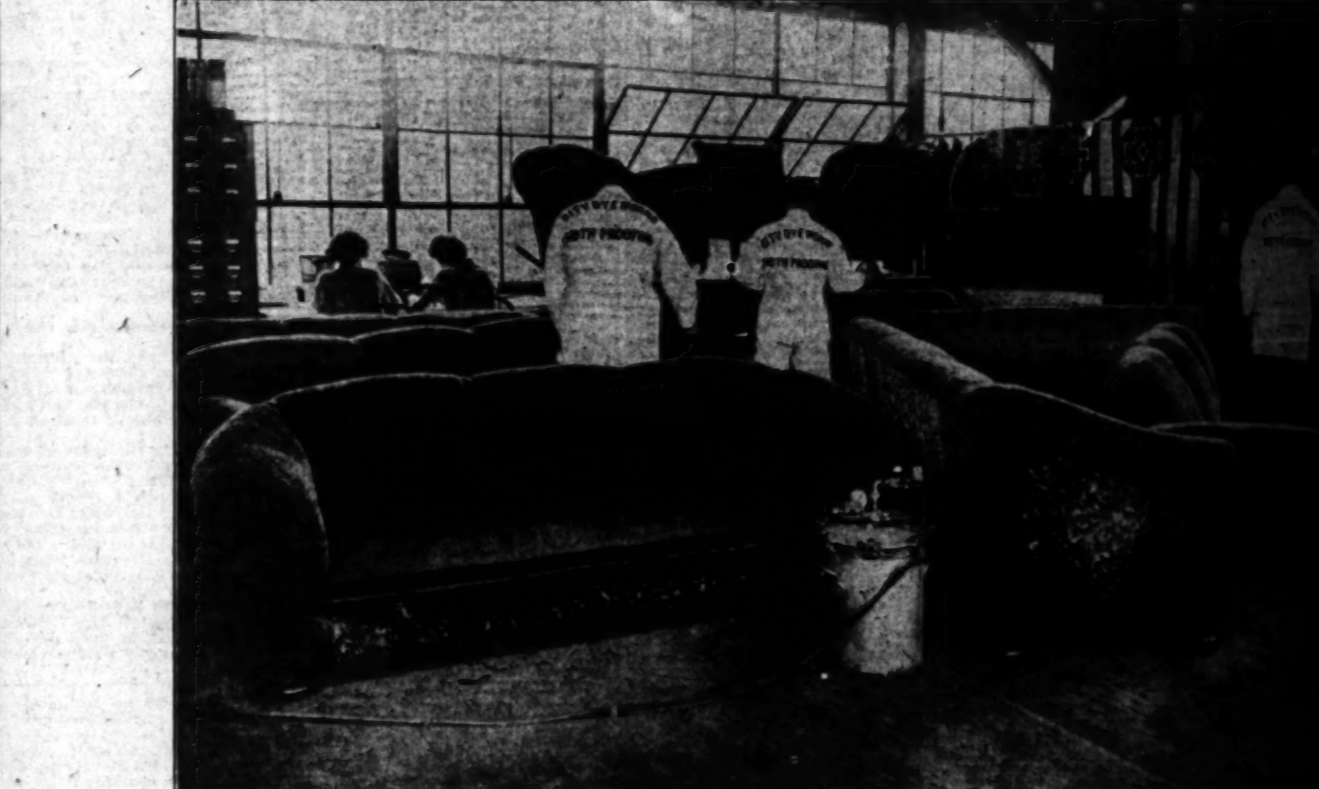

Col. Frith, Federal dry czar for this district, expects to drive another spike into his plank for a dry holiday season next Wednesday when he and the managers of the ten leading Los Angeles hotels confer on methods to minimize liquor traffic.

Last Friday in a meeting with the sheriffs of Ventura, Orange and San Diego counties, Col. Frith established the Federal prohibition offices in the Transportation Building as the clearinghouse for county-border rum violations that embarrass local officials.

The foundation was laid for an association between Sheriff's workers of all the Southern California counties and the Federal prohibition agents which are expected to prove disastrous to the rum-runners, who laugh gleefully as they skip from county to county, evading first one posse and then another which can venture no farther than the county line.

In the future, under the scheme developed at the meeting and discussed yesterday by Col. Frith, county-line rum cases will be attended, where needed, by the or more government agents whose operations are limited only by the nation's borders.

RACE DRIVER INJURED IN STREET ACCIDENT
H. Brittan, racing driver of 1805 West Twenty-fifth street, severed the tendons of his hands early yesterday morning when his car overturned at the intersection of Melrose avenue and Vine street. He was taken to the Dickey & Case Hospital, Hollywood, and later removed to his home. According to his report he was dodging another machine when he lost control of his car.
